

Shannon Woodman

President & COO, Washington Alarm

Shannon Woodman represents the 3rd generation to run Washington Alarm, Inc. In 2000, she started as a sales representative and quickly worked her way up to sales manager. In 2011, Ms. Woodman officially took over day to day operations of the company from her father, becoming Chief Operating Officer. She is responsible for growing her current staff from 35 employees to 80 employees and doubling revenues. Currently, she serves as President/COO and continues to grow Washington Alarm into the premier fire, security, and monitoring company it is today.

In 2010, Ms. Woodman was named a 20 under 40 in SSN Magazine for the security industry. In 2014, she received the Presidential Special Recognition Award for her work with the membership committee for the Central Station Alarm Association (Now known as TMA).
