

MEDIA CONTACT:

Leigh A. McGuire
Dir., Marketing and Communications
TMA
Email: lmcguire@tma.us
Direct: (703) 660-4916

TMA 2023 Meetings Call-for-Presentations Now Open

Security and monitoring industry experts invited to submit proposals through Feb. 17th.

December 1, 2022, McLean, VA – The Monitoring Association (TMA) seeks session proposals for its 2023 meetings, which include its Virtual Mid-Year Meeting [April 18-20th]; OPSTech [Lafayette, LA, Oct. TBD]; and Annual Meeting [Maui, HI, Nov. 4-8th]. Security and monitoring professionals are invited to share their knowledge, experience, and expertise with industry colleagues. TMA education events offer alarm industry professionals a distinct opportunity to gather and exchange best practices and address impactful issues that span the entire industry.

Topics should be timely, solutions-based, and relevant to those in the security industry:

- Work-from-Home Management
- Emerging Technology
- Video Surveillance
- Advances in Artificial Intelligence
- Leadership and Workforce Optimization
- Other trending topics

Read speaker requirements and submit proposals now through COB Feb. 17th at <https://tma.us/education/speakers-smes/call-for-speakers/>. If you have questions, please contact education@tma.us for assistance.

###

About The Monitoring Association

The Monitoring Association (TMA), formerly the Central Station Alarm Association (CSAA), is an international non-profit trade association that represents professional monitoring companies, security systems integrators, and providers of products and services to the industry. Incorporated in 1950, TMA represents its members before Congress and regulatory agencies on the local, state and federal levels, and other authorities having jurisdiction (AHJs) over the industry. Learn more online at <https://tma.us/about-tma/>.